ADELAIDE

WHY WE LOVE IT:

There are good renovations, there are great renovations, and then there's this, which would have to be one of the most exquisite updates to a character city home we've seen in a long time. Built in 1882 by Henry Lockett Ayers, the Victorian home has been updated throughout to imbue an edgy industrial New York vibe, with distinctive French Oak floorboards and black-and-white checkerboard flooring complemented by deep navy kitchen cabinetry. This is city living at its best.
